More, Not Less, Since
Armistice Day.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 21.—[Special]—Disclosure that the administration is not only retaining the civilian war machine practically intact at vast expense sixteen months after the war ended, but is now actually increasing its clerical force, has brought to a crisis the struggle between the legislative and executive branches over the selection of appropriations.

Convinced that the administration is persistently misrepresenting the needs of the bureaus in order to retain an army of superfluous clerks on the pay roll, the Republican meeting committee of the house has decided that all departmental demands for money be "slashed to the bone."

Wash. Slash Sundry Civil Bill.

In accord with this policy, Chairman of the house committee on appropriations said today, the sundry civil appropriation bill will carry only a little more than $500,000,000 instead of more than $900,000,000 asked by the department.

Very estimates for the next fiscal year already have been reduced from $431,254, asked by Secretary Dan R. Bassett of the Alexander Lumber company, was whistling. The house was to be a surprise to the committee to show its members how the high rent situation can be met through the portable home plan.

Appeared there, then, Francis Beemster, business agent of Carpenters' union, local No. 434. Beemster surveyed the scene quickly and raised his hand.

"Come out of there," he called to the carpenters. "Stop this work at once. There will be no portable houses put up by Chicago union labor until we get orders from headquarters."

Nothing Doing.

Bassett ran over to Beemster as the men dropped their tools. "But this is union made goods," he pleaded. "There is not a board in these sections that has not been put there by a union carpenter. It is true this house was made outside of Chicago. But it is the quickest way of getting buildings put up to relieve the shortage of homes here."

"Makes no difference," replied Beemster. "William Brims, president of the Carpenters' District council, says nothing doing on this kind of a house.

And thus was stopped the first effort to end the high rent conditions through the housing of families in quickly erected buildings.

Charged a Combine.

"This looks to me like a combine between the union officials and the building material interests," said Mr. Bassett last night. "We secured a building permit to put up the house and hired union carpenters to put it together. In fact, all the work is union. The rub is that the material was not produced by a Chicago concern."

Mr. Brims, who was reached at his home in Austin last night, said:

"The portable house is a project against the interests of our organization," said Brims. "I consider that the only real union made house is the one manufactured on the ground by Chicago carpenters. As for a combine with the material men, that is absurd."

"I stopped the carpenters from putting up the building because I want to investigate first whether it is union made," said Beemster. "If it is I think there ought not to be any trouble getting it erected."

Faith in the portable home project was not lost by Mr. Kramer.

"This is a serious thing, but I think there has been some mistake," said Mr. Kramer. "I think it can be straightened out with the union officials. We will endeavor to reach a settlement tomorrow."

Cannot Defend Increases.

No one can read the report and not be aware of the increases of employees to be made. You cannot defend them.

Instead of having the number of employees in the district, now over 104,000, we ought to be steadily decreased.

"I had three employees from one of the departments of the government come into my office the other day and to get a transfer for them. I said, 'Come to some department where we can do some work,' they said.

"They stated that in the division where they were employed, where three employees were supposed to be, there had not averaged the writing of three letters a day for the last two months. These persons should be home, where they ought to be, if we are not here for them."

Would Pay Fares Home.

In far as I am concerned, I desire provision shall be made in some way to pay the railroad fares of all necessary employees of the government to their homes and giving a limited time to accept the offer. I desire to say, however, that they are doing the government of the District of Columbia so good, nor is it a great number of this vast herd any good."

The Red army marching from Stettin to Henningsdorf was attacked by Reichswehr twenty miles northeast of Berlin with ten machine guns.The Reds, fixed in the village, were driven out only after being attacked by an armored train. Fifty were killed and destroying two bridges. A general for a continuation of Berlin's

Berlin at Work Again

BERLIN, March 24.—[By the Associated Press]—Berlin this morning resumed work. Road sweepers were busy removing a fortnight's collection of litter, including numerous proclamations of the Kappists and others connected with the short lived revolution;All the allied peace delegates will be culpable, but the European delegates will attach the blame for the tardiness of America's representatives at Versailles.

Revision of Treaty.

Only one thing can prevent the establishment of soviets in Germany within three months.It may be that assistance or a promise before June of a revision of the treaty could stem the trend.Germany and Russia will be linked in Red brotherhood.None of the above statements originates with me.The conditions are carefully prepared, on the part of a well known European statesman whose name we are not at liberty to reveal.He is a German soldier and diplomat of the old Prussian school, but one whose extensive knowledge of international affairs caused his retention by the German republican government to represent the nation in its dealings with the allies.

Menace to Europe.

His opinion continues.

Development of German bolshevism constitutes the greatest possible menace to the present established authority in the allied nations of Europe.To every demand of the people of France, Italy, and England for relief from the intolerable post-war conditions now existing, the various ministers of those countries point to Germany and promise a remedy upon Germany's execution of the Versailles treaty.The people of France expect better times when Germany pays the indemnity. Italy is operating on a more or less even keel on the same expectations.
Doubt of Germany's ability to make further reparations is growing in England.Germany promised to pay because there was no alternative but to make the promise.Germany will never fulfill all the claims of the Versailles treaty because they would be impossible of fulfillment, even if the allies occupied Germany and tried to apply the treaty themselves.Indeed, there are many Germans in touch with the present situation who now wish the allies had occupied Germany and had seen for themselves.

Position of Germany.

Germany is in the position of a man remanded to a debtor's prison under sentence of remaining there until the debt is paid, but at the same time deprived of all means of accumulating anything with which to meet his creditors.The German working classes are just beginning to realize that. That is driving Germany toward bolshevism.Bolshevism in Germany will mean disappearance of the last hope of the French, Italians, and English of making Germany pay, and you will have the ground laid for the spread of the menace across the rest of Europe.

Knows the Situation.

The author of the foregoing pessimistic idea of the present European situation is in a position to know first hand conditions and affairs in his own country, and has learned the status of the situation in France, Italy, and England through personal and official contacts with the allies' representatives in Paris.As he stated the doleful resume in the Tribune offices at the Hotel Ad-lon, Berlin, he paced the floor in front of the windows looking out over Unterden Linden, where fifty yards apart ambassadors were pushing baby carriages past barbed wire street barricades, each guarded by steel helmeted soldiers equipped with bombs and machine guns.The world will not believe your statement of the case," I observed,
"because it is German. The allied peoples still recall Germany disregarded its promises, broke its treaties, and scattered the regulations of war and of treatment of prisoners, and the statements of gross flagrant misrepresentation to all degrees of falsity which it was.The Belgian forces strengthened their positions. They planted machine guns on the bridge, dug trenches on the bridgehead, and manned the old German Rhine defenses.

Ebert Sends Aid to Wesel.

COELBENZ, March 24.—Some of the government troops in the Rhine district have retired to the northwest, back of the Lippe river, it is reported.
They are being reinforced and their supplies, including ammunition, replenished. There are indications of a heavy engagement shortly with the Reds.Negotiations opened today south of Wesel between the government troops and the attacking Reds. The latter demanded the surrender of the city, but the troops opposed this, as they expect reinforcements. There was some fighting on the Lippe, south of Wesel, in the morning.The same sources indicate that the government is starting to clean up the coastal district of Thuringia after the capture of Halle yesterday. The concentration of Coburg, Saxon-Gotha, has been cleared of the reds after heavy fighting. There have been raids in the direction of Gotha from Erfurt, and the troops expect to take Gotha tomorrow.

Halle and Coburg Cut Off.

LEIPZIG, March 24.—[By the Associated Press]—Halle is completely cut off from communication tonight. The latest reports are that Ebert troops have taken the upper hand, after a considerable part of the city had been reduced to ruins.Fighting is reported in Coburg, which also is cut off from communication.

The situation here is quiet.

Ebert May Give In.

THE HAGUE, March 24.—Official circles are informed that the Ebert government may compromise with the Spartacists in the Ruhr districts, fearing that the Spartacists, if made possible, would destroy the mines, crippling the industry of Germany, France, and Holland.

May Abandon Soviet Councils.

LONDON, March 24.—According to the Rotterdams Telegraaf, says the London Times' correspondent, preliminary discussions among the West German workers indicate the soviet councils in the Ruhr districts will be abandoned and all the Socialist parties will co-operate.The same newspaper learns that a charge of high treason has been lodged against Gen. Ludendorff and that Rear Admiral von Trotha is under guard near Berlin.In Germany, says the correspondent, as in almost every other town and district, any suggestion that the workers have decided to set up soviet government is denied, and in most cases the moderate and extreme Socialists have found it possible to work in union.In Dusseldorf and several other towns the moderate Socialists are joining the workers' council.

65 SINK FEINERS SENT TO ENGLAND FROM CORK JAIL.

Deported Under a Heavy Military Guard.

BULLETIN.
Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
(Copyright 1920.)

DUBLIN, March 24.—A civilian was killed tonight in the center of Dublin. Three men walking close behind him whipped out revolvers and fired. The assailants were pursued, but escaped.

QUEENSTOWN, March 24.—Sixty-five Sinn Fein prisoners, under heavy military escort, were brought by motor from the Cork jail today, where they were put aboard a British sloop, which departed presumably for England. The sloop was accompanied by two destroyers.

The prisoners sang republican songs and returned the farewells of the watching crowds as the vessels left the harbor.

The chairman of the district council has received a typewritten communication warning him that he will be assassinated in the event of the shooting of any Queenstown policemen.

Yankees Many Spies.

LONDON, March 24.—The recent news of Dublin castle mail bags, says an Evening News dispatch from Belfast, has disclosed the fact that the "republican army" ranks are honeycombed with spies and informers, to whom are attributed some of the more recent Irish tragedies. The newspaper adds that today there were further transfers of large bodies of the Irish constabulary from the north of Ireland to the south.

More Troops Sent to Cork.

CORK, March 23.—More troops and Irish constabulary have been sent here, and empty houses at strategic points have been occupied by the military and police forces.

The Sinn Fein organization is maintaining secret watches and guards to protect its leaders, some of whom are reported to have received threats similar to those delivered to Thomas MacCurtain, lord mayor of this city, before he was murdered last week.

Last night troops, supported by constabulary, were stationed at various points in the city with armored cars and machine guns. This protection was maintained while the streets were thronged, but later, when the crowds dwindled, the extra guards were withdrawn. Soldiers and police officers, however, remained in their barracks all night ready for any emergency.

HOME RULE BILL GAINS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

By Special Cable.

LONDON, March 24.—When parliament begins its debate on home rule next Monday it will be faced by new conditions which may make easier the task of passing the bill.

The chief of these is the changed attitude of the Sinn Fein leaders, who last refused even to consider the bill.

Now influential Sinn Feiners visiting London say that, while they cannot afford to accept the bill, if it is passed it will place them in a much stronger legal position.

Dail Eirann, the Sinn Fein parliament, now is an illegal, unconstitutional body, but the new southern parliament, which they will control, will be a legal Irish parliament, capable of enforcing its decrees by the ordinary processes of law.

Hope to Tie England's Hands.

When the bill is passed they will elect a parliament under it and continue to attempt to rule Ireland as an independent country, confident that no interference in the affairs of parliament will have to be made.

The Sinn Feiners are badly frightened at the condition of anarchy to which Ireland is reduced. This was brought to a focus by the murder of the lord mayor of Cork, which may have been the work of individual political enemies in revenge for Sinn Fein murders of their comrades. At this moment there is no law in Ireland capable of enforcement, and there is danger of a counter campaign of murder on both sides.

POLAND'S PLIGHT BITTER, DECLARES RED CROSS CHIEF

PARIS, March 24.—Henry P. Dawson of New York, chairman of the League of Red Cross societies, to correspondents today said:

"I have a telegram from Poland that there are 230,000 cases of typhus there. There is a lack of doctors, medical supplies and of hospitals."

"A ship just arrived at a Baltic port from Russia with 700 refugees, among them fifteen generals and many women. Numerous typhus cases are being aboard the ship, the refugees are not allowed to land."

"In Montenegro, four doctors are trying to look after more than 420,000 refugees."

"The work of relief in Central Europe is of a magnitude too great for the Red Cross league and must be done by the aid of the allied governments."

Bierce, American Writer, Slain by Villa, Charge

San Francisco, Cal., March 24.—A statement that he has evidence against Ambrose Bierce, American writer, who disappeared in 1915, was put to death by a Villista firing squad near the town of Icamuli, on the trail to Monterrey, was made in the San Francisco Bulletin today by James H. Wilson, a special writer, who has returned from Mexico in a search for evidence regarding Bierce's fate.

Bierce's informant was a member of the band that executed Bierce, and showed the writer a picture of Bierce taken from his clothing after he was executed.

France "Comes Back" with 15,000,000,000 Franc Loan

PARIS, March 24.—Unofficial figures of an amount subscribed to the peace loan place the total at between 15,000,000 and 16,000,000,000 francs. There is a larger proportion of currency than in the former loans.

After the split between Villa and Carranza, Bierce was attached to the Carranza forces as a military expert. He was said, and was captured while driving a mule train bearing a shipload of arms out of Torreon and shot.

PEACE DOVE GETS LOST AGAIN IN WASHINGTON FOG

Formal End of War Still Far Off.

(By A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., March 24.—[Special.]—Prospects of formally ending the war between the United States and Germany at an early date were dimmed today by differences between Senate and house Republican leaders over the constitutional authority of congress to declare peace.

Chairman Porter of the house foreign affairs committee has held several conferences with Senator Lodge. Republican leader in the senate, and has reported that a large number of Republican congressmen join the senate Democrats in the view that the Knox resolution to end the war is unconstitutional.

They believe the power of the congress is limited to regulating of wartime measures and they are willing to proceed along this line, but they are unwilling to undertake to restore a peace which would be "slashed to the bone."

WAGE INCREASES GRANTED 18,050 CITY WORKERS

Banks Fear $4,000,000
Loan Council Needs.

finance committee of the city council, made the following statement regarding the city's wage increase:

"We find that in order to comply with the anticipated revenues of the city for the year 1920 it was necessary to provide a budget eliminating at least 1,381 positions, including many police and fire and health department employees, and without recognizing any demand for increase of salary except that the crafts, such as carpenters, bricklayers, steamfitters, plumbers, etc., were given recognition because of their standardized scale of wages adopted outside of the city service."

"Legal Obstacles Insurmountable." Mr. Richard told clearly developed the fact that irrespective of any question of wage increase on the part of the employees of the city at this time an emergency existed under which the city of Chicago faced a deficit under its budget of $2,000,000 to provide which some steps should be taken. Whether or not the city employees must have any increase the city must have for its budget this $2,000,000, and if a 10 per cent increase in the wage of the city employees is made it must have $2,000,000.

Mr. Michert also pointed out that another unfortunate element in this situation lies in the fact that the annual appropriation bill must be enacted into law prior to March 31, which leaves the city only six days for the final decision to be made by the city council as to its attitude in connection with the wage increase.

"So far as any action by the banks is concerned, I fear it only as my personal judgment that there are practically insurmountable legal obstacles to the banks loaning the money to the city at this juncture."

Give Increases to All.

The Toman resolution provided for 10 per cent increases, "slightly more or less." Ald. Wallace, Captain, Lippis, and A. O. Anderson wanted to construe these words to mean that 15 or 20 per cent increase might be given to small-salaried employees, with no increases for employees receiving $3,000 or over.

The committee then started through the council, and finally taking care of the clerks, firemen, and policemen, had granted the following increases by 11 o'clock last night:

At the council meeting held in the morning, Ald. Powers' plan to negotiate with the banks, especially with the bankers who had been killed. Ald. Wallace, Captain, and A. O. Anderson then introduced a resolution directing that the revenue for this year be placed at $2,725,000, in view of the "enormous increase in the value of taxable property."

Let the Boosters Help.

Ald. Anderson declared that the telephone companies and the Chicago Telephone company are "robbing the city of $3,111,000 a year by failure to pay their just taxes."

The charge resulted in a half hour of speech making during which Ald. Captain said:

PAY $908,829,172 AS PART OF TAX FOR YEAR OF 1919

Washington, D. C., March 24.—Income and excess profits taxes aggregating $908,829,172 were paid as the first installment of the nation's tax bill for 1919.

While these figures do not represent an exact quarter of the taxes for last year, they indicate collection for the entire year of approximately $3,500,000,000, treasury officials said tonight.

Collections for the first period of 1918 were $1,000,000,000, and for 1919, the reduction this year being due to the lowering of the normal income tax rate.

The collections by states included the more important ones:

California	37,296,078
Colorado	7,121,725
Connecticut	17,131,571
Illinois	274,475
Indiana	15,323,470
Iowa	8,804,358
Kansas	9,007,748
Kentucky	7,800,000
Louisiana	4,494,006
Maryland	15,363,738
Massachusetts	50,780,867
Michigan	38,579,091

per cent increases be given to employees getting less than $150 a month, but this motion also failed, and the committee proceeded to apply the 10 per cent rule to the salary of C. C. Fitzmorris, secretary to the mayor, making it $5,000 instead of $5,000.

Motion of Ald. Maypole, the 331 civil service employees who had been left out of the budget were restored, using up $1,000,000 of the $4,000,000 increase in paper and payroll" increases.

Under the council's order $800,000 more must go for increased street cleaning and garbage removal.

Some Other Increases.

The committee then started through the council, and finally taking care of the clerks, firemen, and policemen, had granted the following increases by 11 o'clock last night:

Laboratory assistants, $120; ambulance and hospital surgeons, $120; chemists and bacteriologists, $120; school health nurses, $120; supervising medical inspectors, $180; telephone operators, $120, and police operators, $200.

Anderson then introduced a resolution directing that the revenue for this year be placed at $2,725,000, in view of the "enormous increase in the value of taxable property."

During the discussion of the revenue question Mayor Thompson advocated a provision in the state tax laws making it a penal offense to make a false tax return. He said such a provision would double the city's revenue, and promised to embody his suggestion in a message to the council.

PLEDGE OF MORE STREET CARS MADE BY BLAIR

Tells of Order as Poor Service Is Shown.

Members of the state public utilities commission put in a heavy day yesterday.

Henry A. Blair, president of the Chicago Surface Lines, asserted to the board his company was receiving bids on 200 new cars, which would be put on the streets within a few months.

Commissioner Funk scored the traction company for allowing cars to remain in the barns during the rush hours.

Moving pictures were projected on a screen in the board rooms, and Chicanos clinging-like flies to street cars were shown.

The use of trailers was called "fearable," and it was announced that the advisability of their employment was under investigation.

Blair Tells of Plans.

"We have received many estimates on cars and have ordered some," said President Blair. "I find that a fully equipped car will cost from $16,000 to $17,000 and that it will take from three to six months to get 200 new cars rolling on our streets. This will be done."

"The adaptability of trailers is being investigated by our engineers and I believe that the use of trailers is feasible. It is extremely probable that trailers will be put into service."

A short time later Commissioner Funk took the floor.

"It is plain as the sun in the sky that there is no earthly reason for holding street cars in the barns during rush hours," he said. The traction people have denied that any cars are left in the barns except those out of repair and undergoing rehabilitation.

WOOD'S LEAD SPELLS VICTORY IN SOUTH DAKOTA

He Has 4,000 Votes Over Lowden.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 24.—(Special)—Returns from 1,185 of the state's 1,740 precincts give Maj. Gen. Wood 27,664; Gov. Lowden, 23,385; Senator Johnson, 21,735, in the Republican race at the presidential preference primary. The Democratic choice goes to James W. Gerard, former United States ambassador at Berlin.

That Wood has the Republican endorsement of the state, and its 10 delegates to the Chicago convention, there seems no doubt as it is practically impossible for the precincts as yet unreported to change the result.

Calm Lowden Victory.

Until late this afternoon, the Lowden forces expected the conviction that the later returns would overcome the Wood lead, but that was not the case. With 1,133 precincts in, Wood had 27,004; Lowden 22,598 and Johnson 21,271. The count at that time was complete for 12 counties and only 3 precincts short of complete for 20 others. The missing precincts at that time were those in which 1916 had polled 2,018 votes for the Republican candidate for governor.

The purely farming precincts are not included, and many of them may not report for a week, particularly those lying west of the Missouri river.

Nominated for the Senate.

Gov. Peter Norbeck received the Republican nomination for United States Senator and W. H. MacMaster of Huron, author of the present primary law, was MacMaster's opponent. In campaign debates with MacMaster, Richards favored the sale of light wines and beer as merchandise to persons of moral responsibility."

POINDEXTER IN CITY; TALKS OF CONVENTION

For the first time in many years a Republican presidential candidate will actually be selected by delegates in convention assembled when the representatives of the party gather in Chicago next June.

This is the opinion of Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, who passed through the city yesterday on his way to Washington from South Dakota, where he engaged in a joint debate with Gen. Wood.

"There will be a number of candidates with considerable support in the convention," he said. "A process of elimination will be necessary before a nomination can be secured and no one can foresee the result at this time."

"Perhaps the greatest issue in the campaign and probably for some years to come, if the international propaganda is kept up, is and will be the question of forming a government union with Europe in a league of nations. Gen. Wood favors the adoption of the league constitution with reservations. I am wholly opposed to any such surrender of independence in any form. Both at our debate at Pierre and at a meeting I addressed at Sioux Falls the people showed unmistakably their opposition to the internationalist scheme."

RORABACK ROARS IN G. O. P. FIGHT; KING ROARS BACK

New Haven, Conn., March 24.—(Special)—Calling each other lobbyists, the two Republican factions headed by John T. King and J. Henry Roraback bitterly attacked each other in the state convention today. King's floor leader, Lieut. Gov. Clifford Wilson, said that under the leadership of Roraback a normal Republican plurality of 44,000 had been converted to a Democratic plurality which had twice resulted in the election of a Democratic governor and caused a political split between former Gov. Morgan G. Bulkeley and United States Senator George P. McLean.

Col. Ullman, Republican leader of New Haven county, asked Mr. Wilson if Mr. King was not himself active in the lobby until a few years ago. On behalf of the King faction, Wilson presented two motions to the convention, both of which were lost, attesting to the control of the convention by the regular machine state organization.

PROBE FORD'S CAMPAIGN, TOO, GOVERNOR ASKS

Evanston, Mich., March 24.—Until the United States Supreme court passes on the verdict of the jury in the Newberry election conspiracy trial at Grand Rapids none of the seventeen men found guilty of criminal conspiracy will be asked to relinquish any public office it holds. This was stated by Gov. Albert A. Sleeper here today. The governor said he believed the campaign of Henry Ford, Senator Newberry's Democratic opponent in the 1918 election, should now be investigated.

"If the government is sincere in its investigation, it should not stop with investigating the campaign of the winner, but should probe the campaign of the loser as well," the governor said.

NATION-WIDE DEMAND FOR HOOVER, HIS FRIENDS SAY

New York, March 24.—(Special)—The effort to nominate Herbert C. Hoover for president at the Republican convention in Chicago in June has met with much success, according to Mr. Hoover's California friends here, that within the next ten days there will be a national conference of Hoover supporters from all over the country at Chicago. A permanent national committee, with a permanent chairman, which will direct the Hoover campaign in the future, will be established, and national headquarters will be opened.

EVANSTON MAN SAYS LONG JAG COST FORTUNE

Children of R. W. Simpson Fight for $250,000.

Intoxicating liquor, in endless quantity, was employed to keep Robert W. Simpson, 913 Grove street; Evanston, in a state of ignorance regarding the settlement of his father's $500,000 estate, according to testimony offered yesterday before Probate Judge Horner. Simpson's three children are fighting for one-half of their grandfather's property. The liquor, witnesses said, was supplied by the brother and four sisters of Simpson.

Robert Simpson, the elder, a former meat market owner and real estate dealer in Evanston, left a will at the time of his death, bequeathing approximately one-half of his property to the three grandchildren, Robert W. Jr., Charles, George and Genevieve Maggie Simpson.

The will was not admitted to probate after allegations were made that the man was of unsound mind at the time the will was drawn. By refusing the will, the court ordered the estate distributed among the six children, thereby causing the grandchildren to lose their inheritance.

Father Takes Stand.

Simpson, in a shaky, broken condition, took the witness stand yesterday and testified on behalf of his three children. He stated that he had known for some time that his father's will had not been admitted but that it was considered too late then to find out the cause of the unsoundness of his parent.

During this time, he declared, he had been pilled with liquor and kept in an intoxicated condition by his brothers and sisters, and in this condition had signed various papers. Among these papers, according to Attorney Lester L. Bauer, representing Simpson, was the petition for letters testamentary, which document is alleged to have been tampered with after the signing.

The papers were usually signed in Simpson's home. One was said to have been signed in the law offices of Attorney Francis J. Sullivan, representing the brothers and sisters in the contest.

Charges False Transcript.

Numerous witnesses were placed on the stand during the afternoon to testify regarding the sanity of the elder Simpson at the time of the drawing of the will. Arthur S. Van Dusen, one of the attorneys for the wife, who had known Simpson for some time, he had no reason to believe the man was of unsound mind. On the original hearing of the will Van Dusen appeared, and, according to the transcript of evidence submitted to the court, he testified that Simpson was of unsound mind. Yesterday he denied this. Attorney Bauer accused the defendants of submitting a false transcript to the court.

Among the others who testified that they had business and social dealings with Sonnenchein prior to his illness and who agreed that he was sane, although eccentric were Charles N. Stevens of the National City bank of Evanston and John F. Hahn, city clerk of Evanston. The hearing will be continued Monday.

Governor Again Balks at Special Session.

Hartford, Conn., March 24.—Gov. Marcus H. Holcomb, Republican, in a statement tonight, flatly refused to call a special session of the Connecticut general assembly to act on the federal suffrage amendment.

The Republican state convention, by an almost unanimous vote in New Haven this afternoon, called upon the governor to call a special session so that it might be possible for Connecticut to be the thirty-sixth state to ratify the suffrage amendment.

See No "Emergency."

"I have read the resolution passed yesterday by the Republican state convention," said Gov. Holcomb. "I do not see how that changes the situation or assists to create the special emergency which authorizes the governor to call a special session."

"The state constitution places the responsibility on the governor. I shall not shift it to the delegates to the Republican state convention. I again decline to call a special session."

Wants People's Decision.

"The adoption by thirty-six states of the federal suffrage amendment will change our constitution, but until it is changed my oath of office requires me to support it in its unaltered form."

"Connecticut should be one of the thirty-six states to adopt the suffrage amendment by the vote of the general assembly, and thereby change our constitution without the concurring vote of the electors of the state, it would be contrary to the provisions of our constitution."

Delaware Outlook Uncertain.

Dover, Del., March 24.—(Special)—On the eve of the battle, scheduled for the 27th, in the Delaware legislature, on the ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, indications point strongly to the defeat of the amendment.

After a joint conference of the Democratic and Republican house members here today, a pledge to vote against suffrage was signed by 10 Republicans and 11 Democrats with the assurance of two more signatures tomorrow.

Efforts are being made to call up the suffrage amendment tomorrow. An effort was made in the house to have it referred to a committee of the whole but this was defeated and the REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT.

The three leading candidates for the Republican nomination are Gen. Wood, Gov. Lowden, and Senator Johnson. There are other candidates and another man may be nominated, but these three are making a vigorous pre-convention contest for instructed delegates, and they are the present leaders for that reason.

Of the three Gov. Lowden has had long experience in state and national politics and government and similarly a long record to his credit. He has been in congress and is governor of Illinois.

As governor he has instituted administrative reforms which touch the essence of effective administration. The civil administrative code of Illinois, which represents his ideas and is of his inspiration, is, we believe, one of the genuine attempts made in American government toward effective conduct of public affairs.

Gov. Lowden has revealed comprehension and intelligence and vigor in administration and is in the presidential race with admitted qualifications for the office.

Gen. Wood is a national figure and has been one for over twenty years. His patriotism has been expressed in constant service of the nation as administrator and soldier. It is a record which the Republican party could proudly assert and it establishes Gen. Wood's name in American history regardless of the political events of the present year.

Senator Hiram Johnson has been governor of California and is senator from that state. He fought for administrative reforms in California and when the opposition to decency in politics was well entrenched. He has been a vigorous figure in national politics. His thought is sound as an American.

Here are three men presenting themselves to the voters of the Republican party. Preference will be given in one quarter to Wood, in another to Lowden, in another to Johnson. In the convention it may be given to another Republican whose record and character will justify it. If Wood, Johnson or Lowden wins the party can accept the nomination with conviction that a good man has been chosen.

The preliminary contest ought to be one which understands that it is between qualified men. The Pacific coast may prefer Johnson. The middle west may prefer Lowden. The soldiers may prefer Wood. The various qualities which the men have, the various aspects of their records, the various estimates of their ability in administration and of the quality of their ideas will give different decisions in different localities, but there is nothing in any of them which warrants or should permit a fighting criticism in Republican ranks.

The Republican party for the good of the nation is asked to present a candidate upon whom all Republicans can unite. The party needs a candidate who can be elected presented by a party united to elect him.

AMERICA AND THE PEACE.

The defeat of treaty ratification in the senate has given the French press some serious thoughts. We trust there will be some modification of policy in consequence. The quicker French intelligence realizes that the United States will never consent to underwrite the demands of French imperialism the better for all concerned.

The peace imposed by the Paris conference was a defeat of the principles of international accord on which the people of the United States believe a durable peace may be founded. M. Clemenceau had his victory. French imperialism, British imperialism, classical continental diplomacy outgeneraled the American representative played on his personal weaknesses, his ignorance, his incapacity for negotiation.

But it has been a Pyrrhic victory. The peace of Versailles is not peace, but war. It offers the American people no fulfillment of their hopes. It presents us with very little we are willing to defend. On the contrary, the more we find out about it, the less we like it, and the more we are disposed to do exactly what the French press is now tardy in fear of—that is, to turn our backs on this sorry handiwork of European statesmen.

Mr. Wilson has spoken some mischievous nonsense about our moral obligation to counter-sign the bogie charter of international peace. We hope the French will not make the mistake of thinking the American people are going to accept that notion. We did not ask our citizens to die for the building up of France or England or Italy or Yugoslavia, Poland. We asked them to fight against German military domination. We did not ask them to fight to put British traders in and German traders out of world markets, to put the French on the Rhine or in Syria, or the Italians in Flume or Albania. We did not fight to destroy German industry or German trade or the German people. We fought to save ourselves and Europe from the domination of military force governed from Potsdam.

The defeat of the treaty, we hope, will strengthen liberal sentiment in France and in England by disclosing to imperialists abroad that the tradition against entangling alliances is still dominant in "h" country and that American support can be had only for objects compatible with our interests and with our conceptions of "soft" or of intelligence's expediency. "We are aware that the structure of civilization cannot be sustained or restored to stability without our help, and we do not grudge that help. But we shall not give it to the very forces which are responsible for its present state, simply because those forces are controlled by governments for the time being friendly to us. American sentimentality is ballasted by a shrewd sense of the practical wherever we are in possession of the facts, and we shall not enter the old European conflict of nationalistic ambition and imperialistic expansion under a delusion, now exploded by events, that we are engaged in an altruistic enterprise for the establishment of peace on earth, good will to men.

THE POLITICAL LOCUST PLAGUE.

Padded government pay rolls at such a time as this are a public mischief of the first order. In normal times they are a cheat of the taxpayer, but a certain amount of the evil is condoned as a part of the cost of government under the party system.

But the situation disclosed at Washington by Chairman Good of the house appropriations committee and summarized in Mr. Henning's dispatch of yesterday is not only scandalous in its money waste, but has certain consequences of a grave character that mere money waste.

We refer to the loss of trained men in the army and navy and the threatened demoralization of the postal service through the forcing out of trained employés because of the failure of the government to pay living salaries. Within a year the regular army has lost over 2,000 young officers and the navy proportionately even more. These young men had had experience in war conditions, many of them in the active operations in France or on the sea. They are the material from which our future leadership must come. In losing them the army and navy are suffering an irreparable loss, for it is leadership that makes a victorious army or navy.

As for our neglect of the fine body of men who serve the public devotedly in the postal service, that has long been a disgrace to the country. It is clear that with work everywhere highly paid outside of the government service, the most energetic and competent civil servants will leave as soon as it is clear the government will not do them justice.

In other words, the national defense and the efficiency of one of the most important branches of the government, the postal service, are being seriously compromised for lack of money while money is being wasted on unnecessary labor retained for political purposes.

Evidently the administration thinks it is politically more profitable to keep its fat pay roll at the sacrifice of public service and at the expense of the taxpayer than to do its duty by turning the thousands of unnecessary job holders out to find work where they are needed in private business and by paying service that is really needed by the government what it is entitled to receive.

POLITICAL UPHEAVAL IN NEW MEXICO.

(From the Santa Fé New Mexican.)

Editor New Mexican: Being that ever since I had the use of reason, it has pleased me to associate myself with the Democratic party, number of those who are members of some society, or political party: I have come to realize, during the 12 years that I have lived in the country of Santa Fé, that the year has not passed that best friends are to be found in the republican party, and it would be absurd for me to remain any longer in the democratic ranks, wherein I have been acting as a member ever since I deposited my ballot. Now, that I have become a republican, and with the same loyalty that I served the democratic party, notwithstanding that my services were never recognized by the leaders of the said democratic party, I will serve the republican party.

BRYAN STREWS ROSES, THORNS, IN CON CON PATH

Insists on the "Straight, Narrow" Way.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

Springfield, Ill., March 24.—[Special.]—William Jennings Bryan, whose father sat in the Illinois constitutional convention of 1870, today advised the present convention to turn out "a people's constitution." The possibility of the use of his speech to defeat the new basic law, if it does not contain his views, makes them of more than passing interest.

Diego Levy Mayer personally notified every member of the steering committee that he will protest against any future program which does not permit immediate discussion by the delegates of the views of outside speakers.

Bryan's Chief Points.

Among the principal provisions which Mr. Bryan would place in the constitution are:

1. Single standard of morality for men and women.
2. Recall for all officials, including judges.
3. Abolition of private monopoly for public ownership.
4. Trade board in every community to prevent profiteering, with a limitation of profits on shoes, coal, and other articles as now on interest rates for money.
5. Equality of punishment for offenders.
6. Separation of first offenders from old timers in prisons.
7. Abolition of "Godless schools."
8. A shorter ballot.
9. The initiative and referendum principle.
10. Easier method of amending the constitution.

In regard to the mining and other economic questions he said coal operators made from 25 to 1,000 per cent and in four cases in 1917, 2,000 per cent profit. He charged extortionate profits by mercantile and manufacturing concerns.

U. S. BUILDERS TO DISCUSS HOUSE SHORTAGE TODAY

Speed Construction, Cut Costs, Motto.

Methods of relieving the nation's shortage in homes will receive the attention of many of the biggest figures in the construction industries today when the convention of the National Federation of Construction Industries opens at the Hotel Sherman. The afternoon will be given up to the problem.

How to keep down the cost of homes, facilitate quick construction, produce materials in great quantities, and finance building are phases of the subject to be presented.

Discuss Rail Tangle.

The railroad tangle following the return of the roads to their owners occupied the attention of the convention.

Gov. Hiram Johnson, Kansas told of the success of his state labor arbitration court and said the campaign for home ownership was making strong headway in Kansas.

the material men to be patient with the present freight service, declaring it will be six months before any appreciable betterment in conditions is felt.

He declared the American Railroad association, by consent of all roads, had established an advisory committee with plenary powers over service, to which complaints could be made before the interstate commerce commission was called on.

Looks for Strikes.

E. Guy Sutton, representing the national association of sand and gravel producers, declared strikes among the railway brotherhoods will probably come in September, after the government relinquishes control over wages.

"The guarantee of 5 1/2 per cent

under the Esch-Cummings bill will not work out in favor of the shippers, because the incentive for enterprise is nowhere to be found," he said. "An increase in freight rates will call a halt in the building of homes, because the freight rates on building materials are too high proportionately, even now."

Standardization of the building industry was the keynote of the meeting as sounded by President E. T.

Trigg of Philadelphia at the opening of the morning session.

SHANK COMPANY GIVEN SPEEDWAY HOSPITAL WORK

Washington, D. C., March 24.—[Special.]—Secretary Houston announced today that the contract for the completion of the Speedway hospital at Maywood has been awarded to the Shank company, Chicago, to be completed in four months after March 13, 1926.

Hereafter the hospital will be known as "United States Public Health Hospital No. 2."

The contract stipulates that no profit will be paid either to the owners of the land and the present uncompleted building, namely, Edward Hines and the Shank company, or to the contractors for completion of the work.

"The original appropriation, Secretary Houston said, was $1,000,000,

but by the act approved March 6, 1926,

the congress increased the limit of cost to $1,500,000.

The Shank company, on

Oct. 16, 1925, proposed to construct the hospital at $3,000,000, with certain conditions which would increase the cost.

That condition made it impossible to accept their proposal. The contract is calculated upon the $3,000,000 basis with certain deductions and additions."

Yellow Cab

Shares Profits With Employees

What about that $220,000 that we distributed to our employees the other evening?
Did you think it was a charity offering and some part of a philanthropic plan?

Well, sit wasn't.
While it is true that we gave it to them, it is equally true that we think they were entitled to it. Why? Because they helped us make the YELLOW CAB successful. And we persuaded them to believe that it was JUSTICE, not charity.

You can't measure success by a salary. There's more to a good man than that. And you can't hope to be the right kind of a success if you take all the profits yourself. It isn't in the cards. Selfishness is the biggest of business crimes. It is the biggest crime that humanity has to answer for.

The extreme interest
we take in the welfare of our employees means as much to them as the money. The money is the primary requisite because it keeps wife, babies and father in food, home and all the necessities of life.

But there must be good working conditions—
care for the man's personal affairs, personal feelings. There must be everything that helps to create satisfied thoughts and ambitions.

When we share the profits with our employees, we are telling them plainly, in dollars and cents, that we appreciate all they are doing—that we like the way they treat the public —that we recognize their worth—that we want to play square with them in every way.

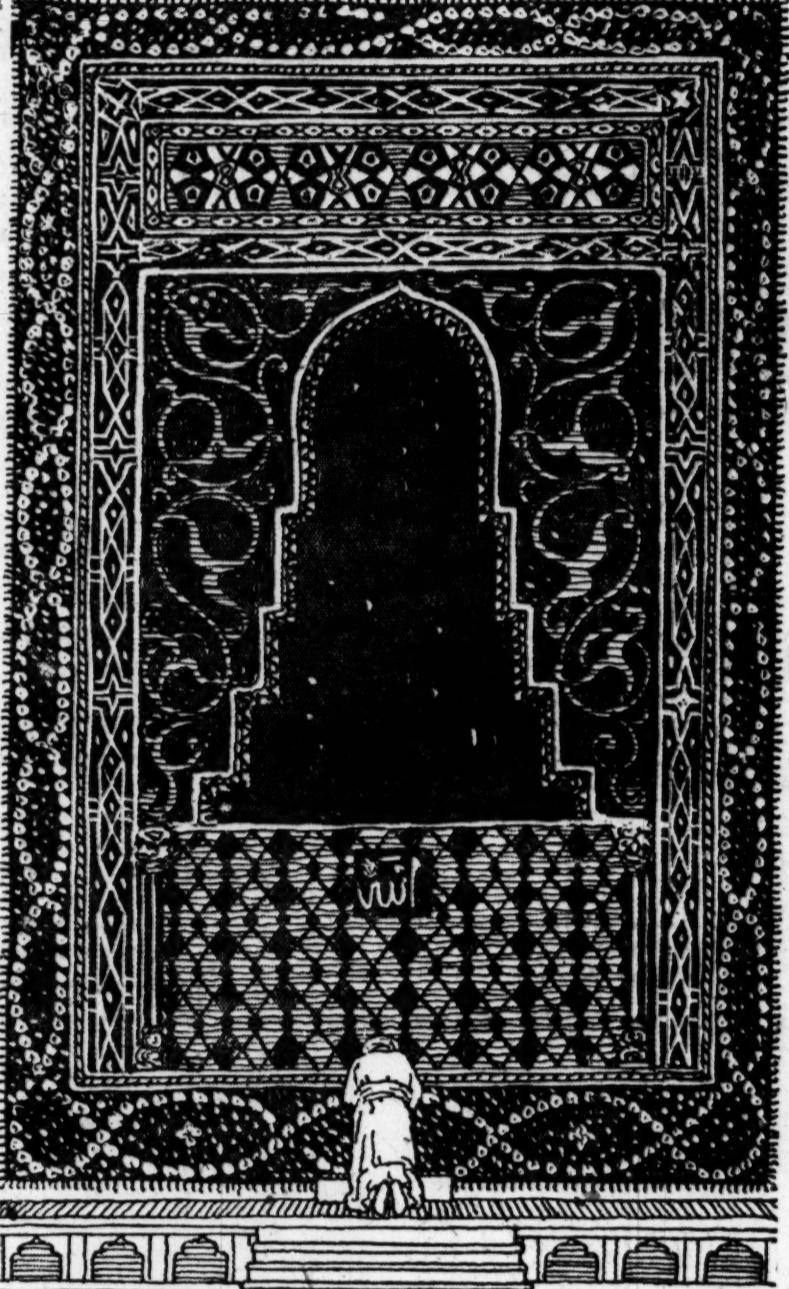

Look at the result!
There isn't a cleaner institution in the world than this YELLOW CAB COMPANY. There is happiness from one end of it to the other. It works like clockwork. It is a grand success. And Chicago is proud of it.

OLD MAN KNEW BEST,' SAYS SON SHOT BY FATHER

Frank Piano Sr. Tells of Fear of Gangsters.

A pasty faced youth of 17 lay on a cot in the county hospital, yesterday. He was Frank Piano Jr. whose life was almost ended Tuesday night by a bullet fired by his father.

"I want to die—please let me alone" was his weak monotone as physicians and nurses tried to minister to him. Then he pleaded with his nurses to gain his father's forgiveness. "The old man knew best," he muttered.

In a cell in the Desplaines street station sat the father, Frank Sr. He spread himself on his "bunk" and smoked his pipe. The hand that had held the revolver crept nervously up and down the cell bars.

"He is not fit to have the name of piano. He is a disgrace," he murmured.

Seeks Bonds for Father.

Before the desk in the Desplaines street station, a plain clothes man stood. He was Sergeant John Sullivan, brother of Roger Sullivan. He spoke in the desk sergeant in a low tone. Hangers-on caught the words "Sawyer Biscuit company," "Roger Sullivan," "Frank Piano," and "bonds."

Piano was a teamster at the Sawyer Biscuit company. Piano Junior also was employed there.

The victim of an irate father's wrath is not expected to die. He is recovering, but he is discouraged because he will have to face his friends and his father again.

"Can't Blame Father."

"I have done wrong," he said. "There is no one to blame but myself. I can't blame my father. I guess he took more of an interest in me than I deserved. My pals around the corner are responsible. They are good fellows, but dad thought they would end up as gun men. He imagined me as a police dogger."

The father spoke with a heavy voice. "He's no good and never would be if you'd let him live in it."

"I have seen several sleepless nights thinking of Frank. I saw him in a station cell. Then I saw him coming from the gallows—like Jack O'Brien and others who have gone before him. I vowed that such a fate should not befall a Piano. I did what conscience told me. I think if other men did the same thing there would be no crime committed in Chicago."

Mother Visits Boy.

Mr. Piano, with his eight months baby boy, visited the hospital and said Frank to forgive his father.

"If we will reform there is nothing good for him that is within our power to give him," she said. "His son wanted to teach him a lesson. We were both worried with this sick boy, and I guess it was too much for him set for hearing."

MOTOR TRUCK SALES HEADS TO CONVENTION HERE FRIDAY

Great changes in methods of selling motor trucks may be brought about as a result of the two days' convention of the National Association of Motor Truck Sales Managers, which opens Friday at the Congress hotel.

Better trade practices, the elimination of price cutting, and the manufacturer's responsibility in the education of the dealers in good merchandising are some of the subjects to be discussed.

A strong effort is being made to have the headquarters of the association located in Chicago.

PHILLIES Emerge FROM JOKE CLASS; SURPRISE LIKELY

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
Birmingham, Ala., March 24.—Expecting to find a badly wrecked ball team, one is somewhat surprised upon coming to Birmingham, the training camp of the Phillies, and discovering that Gavvy Cravath not only has assembled quite a formidable outfit, but has things humming briskly and harmoniously. The Phillies may not look like prospective champions, but they aren't a joke.

"Wetter than I expected," said the notorious slugger manager, when asked how things looked. "I was a bit scared about our chances to make much of a showing until I got this gang down here on the field, but now I think I really may have a team that will surprise a few people this summer."

Fairly Good at Hitting.

The situation on the Phillies is just this:

It is a pretty fair hitting ball club, one that can produce enough runs to win a lot of games providing the defense is good.

Cravath casts a set of infielders and outfielders capable of doing good defensive work.

Cravath has a pitching staff that is doubtful, but at the same time one which has four or five men of experience who might happen to have a good year.

Cravath Making Good.

That Manager Cravath is making good as a leader seems quite evident. He read at once that only good pitching could make his club look like it belonged in the majors, so he went after that end of the game right from the start. He hired Jess Tannehill, old time southpaw pitcher, who in his day was rated one of the wisest of slab artists.

Cravath simply turned the pitching staff over to Jess and told him to get busy with it. And Jess has been busy. He's going into the details and rudiments of pitching. He takes a squad of three and works sometimes an hour or two with them and a catcher on nothing but signs.

Drills Pitchers on Trick Stuff.

Tannehill shows them the tricks of catching runners off the bags and holding runners close to the bags. He teaches them ball motions that are just within the law. It looks as if Cravath will find improvement in his veterans and unexpected ability in his youngsters when they begin the season.

Only nine pitchers are on the squad, so most of them have good chances to stick, as seven or eight will be carried. Of the right handers, Carl Meadows, the bespectacled curve ball artist, once with the Cardinals, is going in classy fashion. Carl was feeling with spitters and shiners and emoji balls for a while and apparently lost some of his effectiveness. Now he's devoting all his energy to the curves and a change of pace and looks good.

Causey Gets Going.

Cecil Algernon Causey, the tall red-head who showed brilliant form for the Giants a couple of years ago, is back in reporting to the Phils and a bit discouraged until he got the spirit of the camp, after which he entered into the work in earnest.

George Smith, with the club last year, is a fellow liable to get into a winning stride any time, for he has the stuff to make good. Ray Lingler is a bright prospect who performed in the Ohio State league before entering the camp. Walter Betz is a young lad off the lots who needs a bit of experience.

Of the left handers, Eppa, Jepta Rixey, the tall and lean star who served in the army and found a bit of trouble last year in regaining his old form, seems likely to "come back."

Wants Another Southpaw.

With the help of Tannehill Cravath is trying to develop another southpaw and has two splendid prospects in Phil Weinert, who did classy work for the Reading club last year, and in Mike Cantwell, one of the fighting marines who played some ball before going to war and played on one of the best teams in the country, who gained fame at Notre Dame, is a third youngster with plenty of steam.

The purchase of Mack Wheat from the Brooklyn club gave Cravath a sterling catcher. He is sure to be the first string man, and will have an able assistant in Walter Tragesser, formerly of the Braves. Frank Witherow, a youngster from the Three Eyes league, is showing some flashy form, and is sure of a job and likely to catch many a game.

Strong Around Keystone Sack.

The infield has Bancroft at short and Jack Miller at second, who makes a strong combination around the middle but, and he and Lederus are fighting for the regular first base job. Lederus seems to have the edge in hitting, but the other man is the faster.

There's a fierce contest among the kids for the third base job, Ralph Miller, who played in the Central league before going to war, and Russell Rightstone, semipro of Philadelphia, both are speedy fielders and good hitters. Missis, short, ten right handed and Rightstone, from the port side. "Stuffy" Stewart, a Western league product, also has a chance.

The outfield is all set, with Casey Stengel in right, Cy Williams in center and "Irish" Meusel in left, with Lebourneau utility man and Manager Cravath himself able to step in if needed.

HEYDLER INVITES MAGEE TO IGNITE 'BASEBALL BOMB'

New York, March 24.—John A. Heyler, who was 4 to 2 off Alex Magee, tonight challenged Lee Magee, former National league player, to explode his "biggest bomb in baseball history."

Magee announced in Cincinnati yesterday he would give out charges on which the National league bases its action, barring him from its circuit. He added he would "show up some people for tricks turned over since

In a letter to Magee's attorney Heyler said no attention would be paid to the subject unless Magee "produces evidence implicating others with him or showing them to be guilty of wrongdoing which he took no part." On presentation of such evidence, he asserted, action of the National league would be effective.

No charges pending.

"No charges are pending in this case by or against Mr. Lee Magee," the letter said. "If I understand the position taken by him in this interview he wants charges have been made against him by some one; that he has to do with gambling, and that he will expose himself and drag others into the matter with him."

"If there are any others implicated in the matters to which Mr. Magee seems anxious to plead guilty the more quickly he names them and gives proof of their complicity with him or others the better it will be for base ball."

Heyler also issued a statement declaring that "more than 99 per cent of the ball players in this league are honest and a credit to their profession."

N. L. Demands Sportsmanship.

Heyler said the league reserves the right to "We do not want you," a player who falls short of the high standard of sportsmanship.

"In furthering these principles," President Heyler continued, "there never has nor will there ever be anything to hide, and I repeat we shall welcome the production of any evidence from Magee or any other source that will aid in prosecuting this work of ridding the sport of underside. If there now be such in our ranks."

PLAYED WITHOUT CONTRACT.
Cincinnati, O., March 24.—Lee Magee, who was set adrift by the Cubs recently, said today that he played with the Chicago team last season although he did not go through the formalities of signing a contract.

Magee hopes to get a hearing from the National league on his case and the contention that he did not have a contract is proved the whole National league standing for 1919 is in order.

The records will show, says Magee, at his hitting won more than fifteen games for the Cubs, and all of these games would have to be thrown out on the constitution of the league is set up to.

ennis Players of U. S. Not to Play in Olympics?

New York, March 24.—The Davis committee, at its meeting, have decided to recommend to the United States Tennis association that this country send no tennis team to the Olympic games, it was announced tonight. This recommendation will be made at the association's meeting here Friday night, when the committee also will make known its suggested dates of July 8 to 10 and July 15 to 17 for the Davis cup matches.

VOX POP ON WISCONSIN LAWS.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—To the Editor:—I—O. M. Madsen, your subscriber, in which one of your correspondents doubts the sanity of the Wisconsin conservation commission. This commission is everything that the name implies and they are on the job all day long. We have excellent fishing in Wisconsin and they are doing their very best to keep it that way.

Zoning the state would not work out well. I live in the southwest corner of the state and we have some fair fishing here. I have fished here daily after the season has opened. I have caught bass and every indication pointed to the fact that the fish were not through spawning.

I invariably caught fish in pairs in waters that provided good spawning grounds, and the females were more or less of a blotchy appearance, which I think proves conclusively that the fish were not through spawning, and that a later opening date for the bass season is a very wise move.

Young correspondent, who states he is in the fisherman's business, says the southern Wisconsin lakes are going to get stung because the natives will have caught all the fish, seems to overlook that the natives will be governed by the same law as regards the opening of the season as the fishermen of Illinois. I am also of the impression that our commission is thinking primarily of the interests of the fisherman of Wisconsin.

ENGAGEMENTS KEEP CARPENTER HOPPING; MAY BOX AT DINNER

BOXING FOR NEW YORK

ALBANY, N. Y., March 24.—[Special.]—By a vote of 31 to 19 the senate passed the Walker boxing bill. The bill, which would legalize boxing contests conducted under the supervision of an army, navy, civilian control board and limited to fifteen rounds, now goes to the assembly.

New York, March 24.—[Special.]—These days is just one engagement after another. Georges Carpentier has been doing a great work since he arrived in this city that he usually does when training for his bouts, but he seems to like it. Wearing a "so this is New York" kind of expression, the heavyweight boxing champion of Europe has been fitting hither and yon and back to hither again.

The International Sporting club has arranged to tender him a dinner tomorrow night, and Georges has agreed with a proviso, that he will box a short exhibition. The proviso is that he will not box in this country. It seems that Georges is a better boxer than he is a sailor, and the rolling of the ship on the way over caused him to take the count.

Coach Says Penn Will Beat Maroons 15 Points Tonight

Philadelphia, Pa., March 24.—Pennsylvania and the University of Chicago basketball teams meet here tomorrow night in the second game of the national intercollegiate series. Coach Jourdet of Penn says his team will win the next two games by 15 points.

New Canonical Law May Provide Loophole.

BY THE REV. F. L. GRATIOT.

Sadness over the impending departure of the Very Rev. Francis X. McCabe pervaded the service at St. Vincent's church last night. Next door, where about 300 students were attending the night school of De Paul university, there was sympathy with the movement of the day students, who have admitted that they may strike if Father McCabe is not allowed to remain. No action was taken toward an actual strike, however.

Father McCabe is head of the academy, the girls' school, De Paul university, and the De Paul day and night schools in the loop. He is also pastor of St. Vincent's parish.

He has been assigned to a parish in Kansas City beginning the Sunday after Easter and has said that he will go. Efforts are being made, however, to prevail upon his superiors to let him remain in Chicago.

See Gleam of Hope.

A gleam of hope was found in the fact that the new canon law has not yet been officially interpreted as applying to such organizations as the Vincentians, of which Father McCabe is a member. The law says local chapters of all institutions under the care of the religious orders shall be changed every three years, with an extension of three years in exceptional cases.

St. Vincent De Paul is "congregation" and is somewhat different from a regular religious order. Heretofore the law has not been considered as applying to congregations, although members say they expect a ruling from the vatican at any time saying it does apply. This is being used as an argument in messages sent to the superior general of the organization.

"Father McCabe is not denied bodily 'Clement,'" said one of the professors at the university. "Great changes are being made in the university, and we know best how to carry them out. We are asking our superior general to defer the transfer as long as possible, so he can complete his work. A rule, however, these transfers go since his marriage.

BUTCHERS FIND
LITTLE DEMAND
FOR CHEAP MEAT

Federal Campaign Seems to Be Fruitless.

"Save money on meat" week hasn't been acclaimed with any great manifestation of economy in Chicago houses, according to reports yesterday.

The TRIBUNE telephoned a number of meat markets in widely different sections of the city in an attempt to find out just what had happened to the appeals of the federal authorities that "cheaper cuts" be purchased.

Some of the Replies.

Here are some of the replies:

BALLARD'S MARKET, 1510 East Sixty-third street—We have noticed no change whatever in purchases at our market.

WALTER J. BOHMER, 3553 North Ashland avenue—I haven't any trade for the cheaper cuts at all.

BROADWAY MEAT MARKET, 3710 Broadway—Our sales are running just the same.

BONSON'S MARKET, 3314 North Clark street—Yes, our customers are buying much more cheaper meat than before.

Sprague Is Pleased.

Mat. A. A. Sprague, chairman of the federal fair price commission, was optimistic about the campaign.

"Our reports show a favorable reaction from men all over the state that they are cooperating in the campaign and we have managed to interest a large number of local retailers."

Stop Beating Cattle.

Humane treatment of live stock as a step toward conserving the meat supply was endorsed yesterday by representatives of all branches of the meat industry attending a conference of the National Live Stock Exchange.

Statistics were presented showing that bruises on cattle and hogs from needless beating meant damaged carcasses and a consequent reduction of the meat supply. The live stock experts plan to eliminate other abuses, such as overcrowding of cattle cars, unsanitary cattle pens and lack of water. Everett C. Brown, president of the exchange, said.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 24.—Re-establishment of the whipping post as a means of punishment of faithless husbands was urged in Municipal court today by Judge August C. Backus in disposing of the case of Joseph F. J. Schaeffer, 47 years old, who after twenty-nine years of married life, lost his heart to a new love.

Schaeffer was arrested when his employers charged he was short $4,000 in the last two years. The judge told him that because of his family he would place him on probation for five years instead of sending him to Waupaca. Schaeffer will make good the shortage.

KANSAS SCHOOL DENIES "SOVIET"

Hays, Kas., March 24.—E. L.蒙古, financial secretary of the Fort Hayes normal school, tonight denied that there was any "soviet" in existence at the school or any tendency toward a "soviet" among any of the students or faculty of the institution.

The school has asked the governor to send a man to take charge of the school, he said.

The transfer will not interfere with Father McCabe's participating in the settlement, however, as he will stay until after Easter. He was chosen as writer by the gas workers.

The Very Rev. Thomas O. Flinney, C. M. V., head of the order, whose headquarters are at Perryville, Mo., said yesterday, "We have no state to make to the public."

Seek to Stay Transfer.

Friends of Father McCabe—including James Bowers, head of Lyon & Healy; Judge Bernard P. Barassa and Denis J. Sullivan; John McGillicuddy, former chairman of the Democratic county committee; Michael O'Malley, and others—have been trying to get into the good graces of the order. Father McCabe's successor is the Very Rev. Thomas F. L. Van, president of St. Vincent's college at Opa Girardau, and prior to that the head of St. Thomas Theological college at Denver.

Father Van was born in Peru, Ill., and was educated at St. Mary's Seminary, Perryville, Mo.

A report that the special Lake county grand jury, which State's Attorney James G. Welch has called to meet at Waukegan on March 29, is to investigate the $100,000 Lake Forest booze theft was denied last night by Chief Justice James Gordon of Lake Forest. It was rumored that State's Attorney Welch had decided to take the case before the grand jury, rather than reveal his witnesses at a public preliminary hearing. It also was said the grand jury might touch upon the recent fire which destroyed the Robert McLean residence, the old Robert Chastell-Taylor home.

"I hardly think the grand jury will take up the booze theft case," said Chief Gordon. "It is to take that action. We are going right ahead tomorrow with the prosecution centering about the robbery of the home of Mrs. G. M. Meier in Lake Bluff. We've got some evidence in the McGann fire, but hardly enough as yet to take before the grand jury."

Provide Loophole.

BY THE REV. F. L. GRATIOT.

Sadness over the impending departure of the Very Rev. Francis X. McCabe pervaded the service at St. Vincent's church last night. Next door, where about 300 students were attending the night school of De Paul university, there was sympathy with the movement of

Miss MacLaren Does Not Seek Bread This Time

"THE FORGED BRIDE."
Produced by Universal.
Presented at the Casino.
THE CAST.

Judge Farrel.....J. Barney Sherry
Van Courtland.....Harold Miller
Miss Rainier.....Dagmar Godowsky

By Mae Tinée.

In this picture they divorce Miss MacLaren from her customary gastronomic occupations, which is a relief. She's usually either dying for want of food or hot footing it in quest of some. This time all she does is drink a little apple cider. That's all right.

She's really vurn' nice this trip. She is cast as the daughter of an old forger who, in order that his girl may go to college, has not been able to resist temptation, to pay the way with funds unlawfully provided. He is finally convicted and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary, whither he goes cheerfully. Says the judge to him:

"You are clever with your pen. I hope that some time in the future you will be able to do better than to write than it has been in the past."

And Bill Reynolds escapes from the penitentiary to do just that little thing.

What do I mean? Mustn't tell you. It would spoil the story for you.

The picture rather fools you. For, just when you are springing one of those cynical smiles habitual to the chronic photoplay see'er, and muttering "Old stuff" to yourself, why, you're surprised! And that always makes a hit with the doct'r it?

Reynolds' second acting and photography in "The Forged Bride." But somebody was sleeping sweetly when letters from the daughter to her father were flashed. No two of them displayed the same handwriting.

Tchaikowska Opera Is Given Premiere

New York, March 24.—Tchaikowsky's Russian opera, "Eugene Onegin," based on a poem by the Russian poet, Pushkin, was presented in America in its original form for the first time tonight by the New York Metropolitan Opera Company. Claudio Muzio, the Italian tenor, appeared in the role of Tatiana, the sensitive heroine, whose devotion to Onegin, a fashionable and bored boaster, and his desertion and their subsequent meeting years later, is the theme of the opera. The cast included Kathleen Howard, the mezzo soprano, and Giovanni Martellini, the tenor, with Giuseppe de Luca, the baritone, in the title rôle.

FASHIONS BLUE BOOK

Trade Mark Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Here is a charming type of lingerie overblouse made of white net under which are placed wide bands of fillet. The long narrow cuffs are also of this lace and the twisted girdle is double ribbed in blue and old gold. An attractive feature is achieved by the sleeves, an echo from the portraits of Holbein. Speaking of lingerie blouses in general, it may be mentioned that fillet models. Here the hemstitching sets lace combined with hemstitching is in the attractive puff sleeves.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.
In Japanese Cook Books.

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—[Special Correspondence.]—From various California promoting literature I have learned that I shall surely have an opportunity to study the Japanese rice cake at first hand. More than one of my correspondents has been curious about these. The vegetables I bought at the public market were wrapped in a Japanese newspaper.

From my marketing experience I shall be able to get some kinds of information from the mouths of Japanese dealers in vegetables, fruits, flowers, meats and groceries. I have also purchased two most attractive Japanese cook books. I can at least read the pictures in them, and I think I know how I can get some one to read them to me.

There are in these books a good many pictures of skewered fish, but the fish must first be filleted usually. A picture shows that this is done by fastening the fish under the gills to a board, by some kind of a wire, cut this down to the backbone just behind the fin, and then slicing toward the left, along the backbone to the tail. In some cases one would get a long fillet to roll up tight and fasten with skewers.

Another way to skewer a slice of uniform width is to fold over the ends toward each other till they meet and run skewers into where the fold is, and through the ends, bending them thus placing a fillet four times. For a shorter fillet one end is folded, two skewers go through this and the end is folded, and then through the other end. Some of the pictures of whole fish skewered look like fishes on a Japanese screen.

There are whole plates of pictures in one of these books. One contains thirty-two pictures of different cooked dishes, in colors. Another pictures forty-nine cooking utensils, some of which I do not in the least understand—such as live to eat. There is a picture of a meal presented, but instead of being on one table it is on eight little stands.

From this book I shall learn how to fashion garnishes, for which the Japanese are famous. One plate has thirty different fashionings.

A Friend in Need

I want to be the medium through which the friend in need and the friend in need may be brought together. It may be that you have a friend who has outgrown its usefulness that will make a good match for me. Please let me know how to get in touch with him. Please write on one side of the paper. The address of the person you want to see. Please write on one side of the paper. The address of the applicant and send direct.

The raw linseed oil can be put on with a stiff brush at the time of grooming.

Calves usually are infested on the neck, shoulders and base of the tail.

Boiled linseed oil is not recommended, as there is danger of burns in using it, particularly if it is rubbed forcibly into the skin.

It takes only a few minutes to apply the oil, and the animal's coat will remain oily for several days. The oil frequently causes the loose scales of the skin to fall off. This is desirable and does not leave the skin irritated or inflamed, as is often supposed.

Avoid scalding or scurving of the skin after the oil has been applied, the animal should be kept in the barn or in a shady place and not exposed to the sun for at least a day. Vigorous rubbing while applying the oil must be avoided, and the animal should be exercised after the treatment.

On the twelfth day following the first treatment a second application should be made to kill the newly hatched lice.

NET PROFITS OF U. S. STEEL CUT NEARLY IN HALF

The annual report of the United States Steel corporation and subsidiaries for the year ended Dec. 31, 1919, marks the transition from war to peace conditions. As was to be expected, gross and net earnings declined as a result of the ending of the war production, and this decline was augmented by strikes and unsettled industrial conditions.

For the entire year the output of finished steel products for sale averaged 74.5 per cent of capacity. The volume of business compares as follows: 1919, $1,448,567,825; 1918, $1,744,212,000; 1917, $1,688,962,525; 1916, $1,231,478,779. The loss in business was chiefly in domestic orders, as export business showed a slight gain over 1918.

Net Profits Decline.

Net profits for 1919, after all charges and provisions for federal taxes, showed a sharp decline being $76,794,582, compared with $137,522,777 in 1918. After deducting preferred dividends there was earned 10.13 per cent on the $508,560,500 common stock in 1919, compared with 19.45 per cent in 1918. Last year only the regular annual dividend of 5 per cent was paid on the common stock, whereas in 1918 an extra dividend of 9 per cent was paid. Surplus for 1919 was $26,159,780, compared with $28,925,250 in 1918.

Interest in view of recurrent talk of a stock dividend is the fact that the corporation now has a total surplus of $493,048,281, which is equal to approximately 91 per cent on the common stock. The net decline in earnings came in the first half of 1919, due to a comparatively small amount of new business being offered. In this period earnings were nearly $52,000,000 below the same period in 1918. In the second half of 1919, and despite the steel strike, earnings were only about $42,000,000 below the same period in 1918.

Prices Lower; Wages Higher.
